

BBC World News Komla Dumor Award

Terms and conditions

- You must provide the BBC with your name, email and postal address if you wish to enter for this award.
- The BBC will only ever use your personal details for the purposes of administering this award, and will not publish them or provide them to anyone without your permission.
- The deadline for receiving entries for the award is final. This is 23.59 hours on 16th March 2020. No entries received after this date will be considered.
- The BBC will not be liable for any costs incurred in the application process for this award.
- The BBC does not accept any responsibility for late or lost entries. Proof of sending is not proof of receipt. No responsibility is accepted for incomplete entries or entries made fraudulently.
- This award is not open to employees of the BBC, any person directly involved in the BBC or the running of the competition.
- The judges' decision is final and no correspondence will be entered into thereafter.
- The BBC reserves the right to use the names and images of shortlisted candidates in publicity material.
- The award winner will be contacted personally.
- The award must be taken as stated and cannot be deferred. There will be no cash alternative.
- The BBC reserves the right to cancel this award scheme at any stage, if deemed necessary in its opinion, and if circumstances arise outside of its control.
- The awardee must be able to secure an appropriate UK visa, which the BBC will arrange and pay for on the awardee's behalf. The BBC will withdraw the offer of a placement, if an appropriate UK visa cannot be obtained.
- The awardee assigns all copyright or other intellectual property rights in the contribution they supply to the BBC as a result of placement.
- The awardee grants the BBC the unlimited right to edit, copy, alter, add to, take from, adapt or translate the contributions and, with regard to such contributions and any BBC content in which they may have been included, waives irrevocably any 'moral rights' they may have under any laws of any jurisdiction.
- The BBC reserves the right to withdraw the award at any stage if the awardee brings the BBC into disrepute.
- The awardee is expected to return to their home country at the end of their BBC placement.
- This award is administered by the BBC.
- Entrants will be deemed to have accepted these rules and to agree to be bound by them when entering for this award.
